MISS MOLLIE TALMAGE, a niece of Dr. Talmage, was born in China and lived there some time as a missionary. She could speak (hinese before she learned English. She says the Chinese language is very difficult to master, because so much depends on the tone or pitch in which the same word is spoken. For instance, the word "Gee" has eight different meanings as it is pronounced. The word "Ku-je" means "precious," and it also means "devil." One American who was studying the language referred to his wife as his "Ku-je," and as he did not get the

It is supposed that the old lady died from senile debility.

The Smallest Rain-Storm

A rain of the most diminutive area n record fell in St. Louis the other afternoon. It occurred in front of the Laclede hotel on Chestnut street, and while barely covering the width of the street only extended in length from the west side of the Laclede entrance to the Hurst hotel entrance, a distance of about 100 feet. For the space of about two minutes the rain poured within this area and flushed the gutters, but out-side this space the stones of the sidewalk were perfect dry.

The death is announced of John Lesperance, who had been for twenty cears a familiar figure in Canadian literary circles. He was born in St. Louis in 1856, and adopted the nom de plume "Laclede," after the founder of his native city. He served on the confederate side in the civil war in the United States, and went to Canada up-on the defeat of the cause which he had the 13th. esponsed. He contributed largely to Canadian journalism, and was an interesting writer of poetry and story.

WASHINGTON, March 16.-Not since the Samoan disaster has such damage been caused to the American navy as that of Saturday and Sunday. ressels are now ashore along the coast of Martha's Vineyard—the Galena, the Nina and the Triana. The latter vessel, the navy department is informed, went ashore off Cutty Hunk Sunday. She is in a very dangerous position, and if the weather continues rough may be-come a total loss. The Triana left Newport Sunday morning to render as-sistance to the Nina and the Galena. A dispatch from Lieut.-Com. Bicknell, in command of the Galena at the time sho went ashore, to the navy department, states that the Galena lost her rudder post and part of her keel. He expressed he hope that the Nina would be saved if the weather was favorable. No mention was made of saving the Galena, and at the navy department she is regarded as totally lost. The Galena at the time of the disaster was being towed to the Portsmouth (N. H. navy-yard for repairs. Her old engines had been taken out and her new engines were upon the upper deck and were to have been placed in position at the Portsmouth navy yard. The engines cost $20,000. THE MAFIA MASSACRE.

The Italian Government Awaiting Fur-ther Information Regarding the New Orleans Tragedy Before Taking Action in the Fremises—The Matter Presented in the Italian Chamber of Deputies and a Statement Made by the Premier.

LONDON, March 17 .- A dispatch from take no further action in respect to the massacre of Italian subjects at New Orleans until word has been received from the American government as to its course. The popular feeling on the subject in Rome and other cities has not abated, and the demand for action is loud and imperative. The news had the effect, for the time, of stemming the current of partisan animosity, which has been running very high both in the chamber of depu ties and outside, and all parties appear united for the time being in indignation against America. This is considered, the dispatch says, a disquieting symptom, as the Rudini cabinet may go any length to please the popular sentiment. It is stated that orders were given yesterday to suspend the directions previously given for diminish-ing the active force of the navy. Baron di Brocchetti, naval attache at Paris, says that the Italian navy is now one of the finest in the world and could easily block entrance to the Mediterranean to any power except France or England, while sending swift sailing ruisers to every ocean to prey on th ommerce of an enemy. As to the Italian commerce, it is largely confined to the Mediterranean.

ROME, March 17.-In the chamber of deputies yesterday Marquis di Rudini, the Italian prime minister, made a statement with regard to the killing at New Orleans, on Saturday last, of Italian prisoners who had been ac-quitted on the charge of having mur-dered the late Chief of Police Hennessy, of that city. The premier informed the chamber that the Italian government had taken prompt cognizance of the affair, and had placed itself in com-nunication with the American government through the Italian minister at Washington, Baron de Fava. In response to its representations, Premier Rudini informed the chamber. the Italian government had received through the American secretary of through the American secretary of state, Mr. Blaine, the assurance that President Harrison recognized the right of Italians resident in the United States to the protection of the govern-ment and laws of that country. This assurance was accompanied by an expres-sion of the profound regret felt by the president for the unfortunate occur-

LONDON PRESS OPINIONS

LONDON, March 16.-The Star says: "The impressive feature of the New Orleans affair was the perfect orderliness maintained throughout the proceedings. Here, champions of law and order stand aghast at such proceedings. The American democracy has sounder notions as to what law and order really mean. A letter has been written to the Pall Mall Gazette by Moreton Frewen, a on-in-law of the late Leonard Jerome in which that gentleman defends the action of the citizens of New Orleans as straightening out of the Italian question once for all," and he adds that he sexes to moralize over the so-called exetc." The writer comments on the acnot spoiled by the spirit of submission

The Pall Mall Gazette, replying to Mr. Frewen's letter, criticises it gener-ally, but holds that Englishmen should not lift their hands in righteous horror, and adds: "One branch of the Anglo-Saxon race does not differ from the other in this matter. The citizens of New Orleans, finding that the jury did not do its duty, said: "We must by one means or another put down crime. The St. James Gazette, continuing its comments on the affair, says: "The incident shows that native Americans have not lost the quality of stern resolution which is sometimes dissolved by a life of comfort and luxury in modern society. The men who organized this defiance of formal justice are not ashamed of what they have done. They have defeated a society of foreign ruffians who were trying to terrorize a been published. The Mafia in San Francis SAN FRANCISCO, March 17 .- About a dozen years ago a mafia society flourished in San Francisco. Members of the gang terrorized their countrymen and others exactly as the Chinese highbinders have been doing more recently. They robbed and murdered and had the entire Italian community in a state of terror. At length a robbery was com-mitted which led to the arrest of half for six years. Meli, after serving his time, was extradited for a murder he had committed in Sicily.
